NEW-YORK, Feb. 6, 1868.

The Senate is holding a protracted session, with the areation of disposing of the matter to-day. If the Senate non-concurs, a conference committee will life spounted to meet a similar one from the Assembly, and then we shall see—what we shall see. I think it will be total that the House possesses considerable back-

Mr. Fochen said it had been stated there were 12 men bere who would stand by their position like being the subject of the position like by the subject of the position of the dames, and support to the familiang. But that is a beneficence which it has not entered into the heart of Bail Committees to conceive, and we prove that anything he could say would change them. Mr. Nassions said it was inferred that the pride of the Police Commissioners would be offended if they were included in this bill, but he did agree with those who thought there would be clashing. The law requires the police to enforce the health ordinances, and gasy would be amenable to prosecution if they neglected or refused to perform that duty. The law compelled them to execute all the laws that exist in the Morropolizan District. This bill does not provide for a new police—for a health police; it simply takes from the Street Department and Boards of Health duties now exercised by them. The Samitary Commission are to execute the forces and it will be for the Police Commissioners to see that they are faithfully executed. He contended that the Senate bill was not partisan, and some their orders and it will be for the Police Commissioners to see that they are faithfully executed. He contended that the Senate bill was not partian, and that it was not the policy of the party in power to create new partisan commissioners.
